Tēnā tātou katoa

This month we have made some changes to the website to make it easier for you to find the information you need. We have added a Quick links section on the right hand side of our webpages. The links are:

How to use the Clearinghouse

- a brief guide to what the Clearinghouse offers

How to search the library

- the new library homepage with information about what's in the library and how to search and borrow

What's new in the library

- listing items added to the library, updated monthly

Search website \(excluding library\)

- the website can be searched by keyword, but to find items in the library you need to use the How to search link above or the Library catalog search box on the right of the menu bar on the website.

We welcome your feedback on these new features. In coming months, we will provide more tips on getting the most from the Clearinghouse website and library.

There is still time to make submissions on:

Inquiry into the funding of sexual violence services -

information to support submissions available (due 10 Oct 2013)

Victims' Orders against Violent Offenders Bill (due 10 Oct 2013)

Vulnerable Children Bill (due 30 Oct 2013)

Public Safety \(Public Protection Orders\) Bill (due 1 Nov 2013)

Other news, views, and happenings in brief:

- New research on why men use violence against women in Asia and the Pacific has been published
- CDC has developed a free interactive online tool on understanding evidence in violence prevention work
- One of the NZFVC Fees Bursary scholars has recently completed her Masters thesis - Growing up with domestic violence
- TOAH-NNEST has launched their website which includes contact details for services, information about sexual violence and information for the media
- In international news Saudi Arabia and Tonga have passed domestic violence laws.

Read on for more resources, news and events.
